

White Spots of Crape Myrtle Leaf Tips

By Deborah Birge, Fort Bend Master Gardener

Q: My crape myrtle started having these white spots on the tip of the leaves. Can you please advise?

This is something you just don't need to worry about. This is guttation...what? Yep, guttation is the tip deposits of minerals left behind when plant fluids evaporate. So, nothing to worry about.

